

Art & Poetry for Our Watershed

3 Rivers Wet Weather – Arts Education Collaborative
Carnegie Museum of Art – RiverQuest

We invite you to participate in River of Words, a two-day professional development workshop designed by Carnegie Museum of Art and RiverQuest that combines art, writing and science in exploring our environment. This cross-curricular approach not only meets PA Academic Standards, but also ignites passion for science, art and writing among students. This workshop is a collaborative project between: 3 Rivers Wet Weather, Arts Education Collaborative, Carnegie Museum of Art and RiverQuest.

Teachers Will Gain

- A rich understanding of how the artist, writer and scientist think and how to help students explore environmental science through art and poetry.
- Hands-on experience through a one-day workshop on RiverQuest's Explorer boat, well-known among area science teachers and students, and a one-day workshop in a specially designed art and literature program at Carnegie Museum of Art.
- Participants receive a total of 10 hours of Act 48 credit.

Dates and Locations

- Thursday, November 5th – Meet at the RiverQuest dock adjacent to the Carnegie Science Center to board the RiverQuest boat (please wear appropriate outdoor attire).
- Wednesday, November 18th – Meet at Carnegie Museum of Art

Times 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m., both days

Cost $75 covers two-day workshop and includes a continental breakfast and lunch both days

Who Should Attend

Elementary art, language arts and science teachers and curriculum coordinators.
